VETERAN TO PAY WIFE $10 WEEKLY BY COURT ORDER

Harvey G. Dillard, Corson St., Bristol, Before Judge Keller on Wife's Charges

SAYS HE LOVES WIFE
Defendant Admits To Court
That He Had Made A Mistake

DOYLESTOWN, Jan. 8.—A battle-fatigued South Pacific ex-sailor who spent two years in "hot action," found himself stymied yesterday in Bucks county domestic relations court where he appeared as a defendant in a desertion and non-support case.

The veteran-defendant was Harvey G. Dillard, a Texan, who was married on July 6, 1946, and who separated from his wife, Jean Dillard, of 621 Corson street, Bristol, four months later.

Yesterday the defendant told President Judge Hiram H. Keller that he "loved his wife; that he knew that he had made a mistake, and wanted to go back with her." He also heard his father-in-law tell the Court that his own home had been peaceful until the son-in-law arrived and that he did not want the peace and tranquility of the home broken up by Dillard. Then the defendant heard his father-in-law tell Judge Keller that Dillard could not again return to his home to live with his daughter.

Judge Keller directed that Dillard pay $10 a week toward the support of his wife, Jean, and placed him on probation after holding him in his own recognition to comply with the order.

Attorney Paul Barrett, of Bristol, representing Mrs. Dillard, warned the defendant that he had better not skip the jurisdiction or he will be brought back on extradition papers.

Mrs. Dillard, the young bride, testified that she had advanced $400 to her husband with which to purchase an automobile to ride to work in a Philadelphia plant, and that he had spent the money. She also told the court that he had spent $85 that had been advanced to a Trenton furniture company for a bedroom suite, and that he had withdrawn the deposit and spent it. The defendant admitted both charges.

Mrs. Dillard said that her husband was treated "just like my brother" in her father's home in Bristol; that he had a nice home.

Newtown Designates This As A Week of Prayer

The Newtown Association of Churches and Meetings has set this week aside as a "Week of Prayer."

Church officials backing the movement call attention of the public to the fact that "use of prayer is not confined to church buildings, nor is it something resorted to in extremes of human need, but may be a daily resource of individuals, families, and neighbors, the use of which can make life stable and strong."

For this evening the usual prayer services will be conducted in the local churches. Neighbors are also planning to gather Thursday at 7:45 p. m. in various homes for services of prayer. Culminating service will be Friday evening at 7:45, when those of all faiths are invited to gather in the Baptist Church, with the Rev. Edwin H. Stude having as his theme "Interceding for Our Community."

The Rev. Maurice Montgomery, George E. Haines and the Rev. Edmund Sills form the committee outlining the services.

CRIME AND PUNISHMENT

The Federal Bureau of Investigation warns that this country already is on the fringes of a severe crime wave. This statement, based on an intensive study of criminal statistics and recent trends, is sufficiently serious to alert all enforcement agencies. Doubtless it will result in stronger pressure against the lawless elements in various communities. When that happens the criminals seek a haven where relatively little will be done to molest them.

This city must not become known as a place where "crime goes undetected or unpunished, but this community will share with the rest of the country in an upsurge of lawless acts unless, all down the line, the offenders are made to realize that punishment will be both certain and severe.

Every one of the leading figures in ADA has been identified with one or another radical movement which, whether it was realized or not, had its origin in the "new order" theories of last-century Europe, and its motivation and direction at the hands of enemies of the American system of economy and government.

Moreover, if the "six points" which ADA announced as representing its basic political platform mean anything (which could be debated) they mean that the new organization is committed to a pro-Communist program. If that is the case—if ADA is going to work for Communism—then it is scant comfort to know that identified Communists aren't going to be permitted to belong.

The first point calls for the expanding of "the New Deal program" along lines which clearly foreshadow the Communistic concepts of Socialized medicine, Nationalized housing and Federally-controlled schools.

The second calls for protecting "civil liberties"—but in such language as makes clear the "civil liberties" most concerned are the so-called "rights" of Communists to work openly against our government.

The third point is a plea for a nationalized American economy on the theory it will aid world peace.

The fourth point is an ingenious argument on behalf of turning the atomic bomb over to Russia, with no restrictions worth mentioning on what use that nation might make of the weapon.

The fifth would commit the American people and their resources forever to the "internalistic" One-World concept—the "milk for the Hottentots" schemes which Henry Wallace once indorsed.

The sixth would freeze foreign policy into pro-Russian channels, with Uncle Sam presumably playing the same sort of second-fiddle role which radicals in England are urging upon the British Empire.

For the statement to conclude, as it does, that "these policies are in the great Democratic tradition" of such figures as Jefferson, Jackson, Lincoln and Wilson is the most preposterous nonsense.

They are in the Communistic tradition of Marx, Lenin and Stalin.

So is the complacent theory that the Communists are going to be frozen out of ADA. Who is being kidded? Mrs. Roosevelt was associated and affiliated with many groups in the past in which it later was established that Communists were active. Henderson, Bowles and Wyatt were "assisted" in their public jobs by known pro-Communist workers deliberately using them to try to wreck free economy and rebuild it as nationalized or Communistic economy.

Crime constantly preys upon society. But society can turn on those who flout the law and drive them out. The legally constituted agencies will work together. There will be no crime wave in the city or county if the enforcement machinery puts the lawless elements where they belong.

ARMY JUSTICE

The United States Army system of military justice is under fire, as it is after every war. Apparently it will be improved, as it has been after every war. The trend always is away from military justice as a function of command to military justice under the protection of safeguards accorded to civilians.

The American Bar Association has just issued a report of its advisory committee on military justice which states that "almost without exception our informant say that the Army's system of justice in general and as written in the books is a good one." This seems to clear the Army of not providing for a fair trial. It is strengthened by the finding that "the innocent are almost never convicted and the guilty seldom acquitted."

Apparently there is nothing wrong with the system which can not be corrected by following the association's advice to the War Department to use trained lawyers in administering its method of appointing courts and conducting trials. If the department complies, it will neutralize much of the criticism which is being laid before Congress to force a reform of military justice.

"NO REDS ALLOWED"

Now, Communism wears many disguises and has used many aliases. There are at least twenty different brands or versions of State Socialism, most of them distinctions without differences, and all of them at least first cousins to the exact line of Socialism for which one of the S's in U. S. S. R. stands. Communists, contrary to widespread opinion, are not antagonistic to Socialism, but on the other hand are sworn by party oath to uphold it. The pretended divergences between Labor Socialism in England, for example, and Communistic Socialism in Russia, are the most trifling superficialities.

Among Communism's disguises may be mentioned those of Fascism and Democracy. Dictatorship and serfdom in Russia, for example, have often been spoken of as "economic" or dynamic" democracy.

One of the frequent disguises which Communism wears is that of being anti-Communistic.

And this is the dress which ADA apparently plans to wear.

Every one of the leading figures in ADA has been identified with one or another radical movement which, whether it was realized or not, had its origin in the "new order" theories of last-century Europe, and its motivation and direction at the hands of enemies of the American system of economy and government.

Moreover, if the "six points" which ADA announced as representing its basic political platform mean anything (which could be debated) they mean that the new organization is committed to a pro-Communist program. If that is the case—if ADA is going to work for Communism—then it is scant comfort to know that identified Communists aren't going to be permitted to belong.

The fourth point is an ingenious argument on behalf of turning the atomic bomb over to Russia, with no restrictions worth mentioning on what use that nation might make of the weapon.

The fifth would commit the American people and their resources forever to the "internalistic" One-World concept—the "milk for the Hottentots" schemes which Henry Wallace once indorsed.

The sixth would freeze foreign policy into pro-Russian channels, with Uncle Sam presumably playing the same sort of second-fiddle role which radicals in England are urging upon the British Empire.

For the statement to conclude, as it does, that "these policies are in the great Democratic tradition" of such figures as Jefferson, Jackson, Lincoln and Wilson is the most preposterous nonsense.

Crime constantly preys upon society. But society can turn on those who flout the law and drive them out. The legally constituted agencies will work together. There will be no crime wave in the city or county if the enforcement machinery puts the lawless elements where they belong.

Active are various CIO officials—and it is notorious that Communists have held the key positions in the CIO for years, and that no efforts by CIO to "purge" them have yet produced more than a slap on the wrist.

How seriously the new organization will be taken by the American people remains to be seen. But one important fact should not be ignored:

The voice may be the voice of democracy and Americanism—but the hands are the hands of Communism.

Eggs, according to Miss Bishop, are quite scarce in Holland, although some of the people living in the rural sections can buy them on farms.

Miss Bishop expects to be transferred to a child feeding program in Germany.

The houses, which are of brick construction, are six and seven stories high, and because there are few sunny days, the houses have many windows.

Today's Quiet Moment

By the Rev. Theodore Kohlmeier
Pastor
St. Luke's Lutheran Church
Croydon

Lord God, Heavenly Father, Thou didst at the Baptism of Jesus acclaim Him as Thy beloved Son in Whom Thou art well pleased, and didst on that occasion also send the Holy Spirit in the form of a dove to rest over the head of Thy Son, thus manifesting the Holy Trinity and Jesus Christ as true God together with Thee and the Holy Ghost. We praise Thee for this manifestation. And we pray Thee to keep us and all Christians in the knowledge of the only true God, the Father and the Son and the Holy Ghost. We ask it in the name of Jesus, Thy Son and our only Savior. Amen.

BRISTOL TEAMS ARE VICTORIOUS OVER 2 VISITING TEAMS

Profy Boys Easily Defeat The Yardley Team By Score of 43 to 20

HIBERNIANS VICTORS

Morrisville Gardens Gave Stiff Opposition, But Lost, 30 to 23

Representing the Bristol league, the Profy and Hibernian teams were victorious over the Yardley and Morrisville teams, representing the Morrisville league, last night in a benefit game on the Bristol High School floor.

The Profy contingent had no difficulty whatsoever in beating the unbeaten Yardley Country Club five, 43-20, while the Hibernians had stiff opposition from the Morrisville Gardens but rallied in the closing minutes to score a 30-23 triumph.

The Hibernians-Morrisville tilt was close throughout with the Hibernians putting their defense to work in the third quarter and blanking the visitors both from the field and foul mark. After trailing by one point at half-time, the fine defensive work enabled the Corson street boys to go ahead, 19-12, in the third session.

But just prior to the four-minute whistle, the Gardens' boys put on a spurt and with Woodward and Elhoff scoring double-deckers came within two points of deadlocking the score but Joe Snyder dropped in a pair of fouls and Rodgers scored a "pigeon" shot and the Hibs were battled out 46.

RAMBLERS DEFEAT BURLINGTON, 7 TO 2

Bristol Ramblers Roller Hockey team travelled to Burlington, N. J. Sunday, to hand the Burlington team a 7-2 defeat in a non-league battle that had the crowd in an uproar most of the time.

Skating faster, handling the disc more cleverly, the Ramblers hardly gave the Burlington team a chance. They scored four goals the first period, one the second, and two the third, while the Burlington boys scored their only two in the second period. So close knit was the Ramblers' defense the Burlington boys found it very difficult to get the disc over the blue line into Bristol territory. Dick Johnson, who tended goal for the Ramblers, was called upon to make only eight saves, while Burlington's goalie battled out 46.

ST. FRANCIS SCHOOL SCORES VICTORY

CORNWELLS HEIGHTS, Jan. 8.—The St. Francis Vocational School

scored a surprise 43-33 victory over the Bensalem Township high school last night on the latter's floor.

The St. Francis lads annexed their victory by taking a commanding lead at the start of the final period. The Bensalem team was ahead 23-20, when the gun barked at the half-time mark.

High scorer for the winners were Dougherty and McGrath who accounted for 27 points. Jack Hansen and Tono each scored 13 points for the Owls.
